

Energy Asset

Monetize your flexibility

Flexible assets can react to the price signals on the electricity markets. With clever strategies, you can achieve high additional revenues. Benefit from years of know-how in the optimization and marketing of flexible assets.

Do you own or operate, for example, a hydroelectric, gas or a waste incineration power plant? These assets can react to the price signals of the electricity market and generate income for you.

We have a proven track record of optimizing and marketing our own flexible assets. We use state-of-the-art methods to provide the best results to you. For example, we can also model your asset's participation in ancillary services for the optimal bidding in TSO auctions.

Based on your wishes, we offer you three options:

Energy Asset Consulting

Do you want a second opinion on your production and price forecasts, a back test of your optimization models or a detailed analysis with the challenges you are currently facing in the management of your assets? Our experts will advise you on all matters relating to asset optimization.

Energy Asset Optimized

You remain responsible for the dispatching and marketing of your asset. We support you by using our stochastic optimization techniques for optimal dispatching based on market expectations. We model your asset according to your specifications in our optimization software.

You will receive a full production schedule every day. We visualize all the optimization data clearly and comprehensively for additional insight and understanding. Based on our data, all you have to do now is to dispatch your asset, and thanks to our optimization, you will receive additional income.

Energy Asset Carefree

With Energy Asset Carefree you get an all-round carefree package. We handle everything about your asset for you. The BKW experts will optimize and market your assets.

You ensure the availability of the assets; we take care of the complete asset operations. In return, you get fixed asset revenues.

Your advantages

- Years of know-how in the optimization and marketing of flexible assets
- Income without long-term acquisition costs
- Modeling and daily optimization of your assets
- Based on the latest technologies
- An all-round carefree package for the complete handling of your assets
- Transparent visualization of the most important key figures

